

About Me

I laid the foundation for my knowledge in information technology at Hacı Sevım Yıldız-1 MTAL's Software Development department and am currently continuing my education in the Internet and Network Technologies department at Sinop University. During my internship, I had the opportunity to combine my design vision with professional workflows by working at an advertising agency. While developing web interfaces with HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and WordPress, I also successfully handle visual design processes thanks to my Photoshop skills. Adhering to the principle of continuous learning, I continue to improve my technical skills and aim to contribute to your team in a multifaceted way.
